We offer young writers an opportunity to express their voice through creative writing and to enhance their academic writing. We'll explore a variety of writing genres – from short story and personal memoir to fun informational writing, and from reading response, to poetry writing. We'll even have some fun with art journaling!

This is your chance to unwind and explore writing! We'll warm up as we begin each session with an inspirational art image to prompt a descriptive response. Students can expect a balance of writing time individually, in a small group, and some guidance and ideas shared among the whole group. We'll also provide time for you to share your work and receive valuable, constructive feedback from your peers. We'll also have a chance to showcase work on the club website. Come join us for this unique opportunity.
